from entering a high school music competition to being honoured with the new zealand order of merit bic runga has an established place within contemporary popular music focusing on her iconic album drive and including informative case studies of representative tracks on the album this book provides not only an in depth study of one album but skilfully navigates runga s creative work over three decades to illuminate some of the key stages of her career the book discusses the performer s rise to stardom musical style accolades and performance achievements blending popular music studies with media analysis the book is the first to offer a detailed study of runga s creativity and a close up study of her debut and critically acclaimed album

this book answers the question of why and how people form bonds with each other and with insurgent groups in fragile state contexts it develops an overarching framework depicting a political social contract presents the grievance driven pathway as one way through which a reformist insurgency society contract can form and conducts a systematic comparison using two novel case studies not yet evaluated in insurgency literature the ufdR in the central african republic and the slm a in darfur sudan the core claim is that perceptions of legitimacy across the four social contract elements lead to consent to form the intangible bond and foster societal and political trust studying social contracts specifically the interaction between state society contracts and reformist insurgency society contracts facilitates a greater understanding of what constitutes legitimacy in the twenty first century and how perceptions of illegitimacy can lead to a breakdown of trust and the outbreak of violent conflict
