this book argues that media and capitalism no longer exist as separated entities and posits three reasons why one can no longer exist without the other firstly mass media have become indispensable to capitalism due to the media's ability to sell the commodities of mass consumerism media capitalism also creates pro capital attitudes among a target population and establishes an ideological hegemony thirdly media capitalism provides mass deception to hide the pathologies of capitalism which include mass poverty rising inequalities and the acceleration of global warming to illuminate this the book's historical chapter traces the emergence of media capitalism its subsequent chapters show how media capitalism has infiltrated the public sphere society schools universities the world of work and finally democracy the book concludes by outlining how societies can transition from media capitalism to a post media capitalist society integrating scale in remote sensing and gis serves as the most comprehensive documentation of the scientific and methodological advances that have taken place in integrating scale and remote sensing data this work addresses the invariants of scale the ability to change scale measures of the impact of scale scale as a parameter in process models and the implementation of multiscale approaches as methods and techniques for integrating multiple kinds of remote sensing data collected at varying spatial temporal and radiometric scales researchers instructors and students alike will benefit from a guide that has been pragmatically divided into four thematic groups scale issues and multiple scaling physical scale as applied to natural resources urban scale and human health social scale teeming with insights that elucidate the significance of scale as a foundation for geographic analysis this book is a vital resource to those seriously involved in the field of giscience the first study to look at the intersection of the discourse of the anthropocene within the two highly influential storytelling modes of fantasy and myth this book shows the need for stories that articulate visions of a biocentric ecological civilization fantasy and myth have long been humanity's most advanced technologies for collective dreaming today they are helping us adopt a biocentric lens re kin us with other forms of life and assist us in the transition to an ecological civilization deliberately moving away from dystopian narratives toward anticipatory imaginations of sustainable futures this volume blends chapters by top scholars in the fields of fantasy myth and young adult literature with personal reflections by award winning authors and illustrators of books for young audiences including shaun tan jane yolen katherine applegate and joseph bruchac chapters cover the works of major fantasy authors such as j r r tolkien terry prachett j k rowling china miéville barbara henderson jeanette winterson john crowley richard powers george r r martin and kim stanley robinson they range through narratives set in the uk usa nigeria ghana pacific islands new zealand and australia across the chapters fantasy and myth are framed as spaces where visions of sustainable futures can be designed with most detail and nuance rather than merely criticizing the ecocidal status quo the book asks how mythic narratives and fantastic stories can mobilize resistance around ideas necessary for the emergence of an ecological civilization
