this engaging age appropriate set is designed to meet the early childhood social studies curriculum where students learn about themselves and their community and what makes their community similar to and different from communities across the united states by taking a kid friendly who s who approach to different kinds of communities these books teach students about the people who work to make each community a success students build an understanding of community as they learn about public housing communities and the people who make up these communities from the residents to the day care workers and to the building manager students will learn about the many different people who play a part in the public housing community seattle s floating homes community began as a population of unregulated and inexpensive industrial houses in the late 1800s yet it has evolved to become some of the most sought after real estate in seattle today little has been shared about this intimate and unique community that is characterized by eclectic architecture diverse individuals and a strong sense of community it is hard to imagine seattle without its floating homes but there was a period of time when the community was considered undesirable and was almost driven from the city shores this book explores the community history of floating homes in seattle tales from life on the dock and the ongoing challenges of being a fringe neighborhood in the urban context of the city from their experience in nonprofit operations and their understanding of the realities of urban politics the editors of this wide ranging volume and their contributors dig into issues seldom explored in the literature they study the role of nonprofits in local governing coalitions the potential of nonprofits to replace social welfare programs their efforts to restructure key elements of the local political process and the unanticipated internal impacts of the changing roles of nonprofit organizations in the urban community the result is a compelling argument that to understand life in contemporary american cities we must take into account the expanding role of nonprofit organizations their response to increased service demands and their participation in common efforts to direct policy choices hula jackson elmoore and their panel of scholars researchers and close observers of urban policymaking focus on the delivery of social services to illustrate the complex and important set of roles that nonprofits have assumed as social programs are cut at all levels of government it is often believed that nonprofits can and should take up the slack and restore at least some portion of the cutbacks in such services they examine how some nonprofit organizations have taken a proactive stance in this regard by implementing efforts that do not simply react to political and social change but attempt to initiate and guide it instead they attempt to change the political environment in which they operate and the result has been to change the face of local politics in many jurisdictions each chapter of their book explores these expanding and emerging roles themes and focuses vary which in turn reflects the variation and complexity within the nonprofit sector itself at the same time each chapter presents an emerging political or policy role now being played by today s nonprofits and voluntary associations and a theoretical context in which such activities and behavior can best be understood scholars and advanced students in public administration economics and nonprofit management as well as executive level nonprofit managers will find here an important update on what is happening in their special worlds and the knowledge they need to make sense of it an attractive lower cost alternative to site built homes factory constructed housing is becoming increasingly popular new more sophisticated methods of construction and strict federal state and local codes have resulted in safer more attractive and more affordable homes written by a specialist with over 20 years of experience in the field factory constructed housing developments planning design and construction fills the gaps in existing literature on the subject although some information on the design of small subdivisions and manufactured home communities can be found scattered throughout various government documents until now there has been no single guide to the creation of new developments this reference assembles and cites the existing literature and adds to it useful information from the author's two decades of practical field experience this one stop reference explains the planning development and construction processes for factory constructed housing including everything from the roles of municipal boards to roads and development configurations to water and sewerage the book also considers factors unique to manufactured home communities and modular home subdivisions no other single volume contains the information in this book in creating community led and self build homes martin field explores the ways in which people and communities across the uk have been striving to create the homes and neighbourhood communities they want giving context to contemporary practices in the uk the book examines self build housing and community led housing discussing the commonalities and distinctions between these in practice and what could be learned from other initiatives across europe individual methods and models of local practice are explored including cohousing cooperatives community land trusts empty homes and other intentional communities and an examination is made of what has constrained such initiatives to date and how future policies and practice might be shaped
