hyperreality is an alice in wonderland dimension where copies have no originals simulation is more real than reality and living dreams undermine the barriers between imagination and objective experience the most prominent philosopher of the hyperreal jean baudrillard formulated his concept of hyperreality throughout the 1980s but it was not until the 1990s that the end of the cold war along with the proliferation of new reality bending technologies made hyperreality seem to come true in the lost decade between the fall of the berlin wall and 9 11 the nature of reality itself became a source of uncertainty a psychic condition that has been recognizably recorded by that seismograph of american consciousness hollywood cinema the auteur cinema of the 1970s aimed for gritty realism and the most prominent feature of reagan era cinema was its fantastic unrealism clinton era cinema however is characterized by a prevailing mood of hyperrealism communicated in various ways by such benchmark films as jfk pulp fiction and the matrix the hyperreal cinema of the 1990s conceives of the movie screen as neither a window on a preexisting social reality realism nor as a wormhole into a fantastic dream dimension escapism but as an arena in which images and reality exchange masks blend into one another and challenge the philosophical premises which differentiate them from one another cinema of simulation hyperreal hollywood in the long 1990s provides a guided tour through the anxieties and fantasies reciprocally social and cinematic which characterize the surreal territory of the hyperreal essay from the year 2011 in the subject sociology gender studies grade distinction london school of economics language english abstract baudrillard was not concerned as much about pornography and particularly not about cybersex as he was about the more general concepts of hyperreality and the obscene but nevertheless it seems that his ideas might be relevant in today s mediated forms of sexual pleasure this paper therefore tries to apply his theory towards the notion of cybersex two questions seem of highest importance is cybersex real what is it that actually takes place in cybersex the first question can be framed with baudrillard s notion of hyperreality and virtual whereas the obscene is most fruitful in describing the content of cybersex in the following this essay will in the first paragraph deal predominantly with the definition of cybersex before the second and third part will introduce baudrillard s ideas and critically apply them towards the question of the realness of cybersex as well as the content of it before the conclusion will try to give the analysis a wider perspective a section of general critique will follow the development of the argument and reflect on the applicability of baudrillard towards cybersex first however it is necessary to come to a common understanding of the notion of cybersex americans have had an enduring yet ambivalent obsession with the west as both a place and a state of mind michael l johnson considers how that obsession originated how it has determined attitudes toward and activities in the west and how it has changed over the centuries
