because few comparative data existed on european cultural tourism when the european commission designated cultural tourism as a key area of tourism development in europe the European Association for Tourism and Leisure Education undertook a transnational study of European cultural tourism. The first five chapters address general themes: the scope and significance, the social context, the economic context, and the political context of cultural tourism. These are followed by eleven chapters on individual countries from the European Union. It was issued in 2005 in electronic format by ATLAS, the Association for Tourism and Leisure Education.

Planning and Managing Smaller Events: Downsizing the Urban Spectacle explores the role of smaller-scale events in contributing to the renewal and development of urban societies. This book adopts a case study approach to examine a diverse range of events taking place in towns and cities in Europe, Asia, and North America. The volume begins by defining and classifying these kinds of events and then verifying if and how they can provide opportunities for cities and towns without the disadvantages of world-famous large events. It concludes by discussing the growing regional scale of urban phenomena and their transition in post-metropolitan spaces. Planning and Managing Smaller Events: Downsizing the Urban Spectacle will be of interest to government officials and policy makers involved in economic development, urban planning, parks, arts, culture, as well as students and researchers interested in urbanism, event management, tourism, and recreation.
