political historians have traditionally interpreted the people and events of each presidential era by studying books periodicals letters diaries and speeches one source of printed material that has not received much scholarly attention is published music much of which has been all but lost in the archives of libraries and museums the traditional librarianly cataloguing of music has ignored important aspects such as lyrical content and cover art making it impossible to comprehensively locate and study items by subject matter presidential sheet music presents an exhaustive listing of presidential related music in all printed forms and provides information on each piece thus may we expand our understanding of political communication and discourse throughout american history a sizable introduction discusses matters from the publication in 1768 of the liberty song which formally made music an instrument of political expression in america to the few 1980s and 1990s presidential songs and marches there are also helpful appendices which list music by titles composers publishers and candidates as a boy stephen j dubner's hero was franco harris the famed and mysterious running back for the pittsburgh steelers when dubner s father died he became obsessed he dreamed of his hero every night he signed his school papers franco dubner though they never met it was franco harris who shepherded dubner through a fatherless boyhood years later dubner journeys to meet his hero certain that harris will embrace him and he is well wrong told with the grit of a journalist and the grace of a memoirist confessions of a hero worshiper is a breathtaking heartbreaking and often humorous story of astonishing developments it is also a sparkling meditation on the nature of hero worship which like religion and love tells us as much about ourselves as about the object of our desire
