this book proposes new understandings of modern life in Britain by bringing constructs of female spirituality centre stage and examining three forgotten artists identified with the Pre-Raphaelites and Victorianism: Thomas Cooper Gotch, Robert Anning Bell, and Frederick Cayley Robinson. They are resituated squarely within the tumultuous social and cultural changes of the period, becoming visible again in more inclusive histories. This allows such artists not only to re inhabit but to reshape narratives of modernism reanimating the scholarly discourse and creating a dynamic cultural history of modern Britain expressed through their striking visions of womanhood this book will be of interest to scholars in art history gender studies and British studies this unique collection demonstrates the profoundly interdisciplinary nature of Pre-Raphaelitism and contains whole texts and key extracts from key Pre-Raphaelite figures such as William Morris and from less well known figures this work explores Edith Wharton's career long concern with a 19th century visual culture that limited female artistic agency and expression Wharton repeatedly invoked the visual arts as a medium for revealing the ways that women's bodies have been represented as passive sexualized infantilized sickly dead well versed in the Italian masters Wharton made special use of the art of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood particularly its penchant for producing not portraits of individual women but instead icons onto whose bodies male desire is superimposed this comprehensive reconstruction and interpretation of Louise and Walter Arensberg's groundbreaking collection of modern and pre-Columbian art takes readers room by room wall by wall object by object through the couple's Los Angeles home in which their collection was displayed following the Armory Show of 1913 Louise and Walter Arensberg began assembling one of the most important private collections of art in the United States as well as the world's largest private library of works by and about the philosopher Sir Francis Bacon by the time Louise and Walter died in 1953 and 1954 respectively they had acquired some four thousand rare books and manuscripts and nearly one thousand works of art including world class specimens of Cubism Surrealism and Primitivism the bulk of Marcel Duchamp's oeuvre and hundreds of pre-Columbian objects these exceptional works filled nearly all available space in every room of their house including the bathrooms the Arensbergs have long had a central role in the histories of modernism and collecting but images of their collection in situ have never been assembled or examined comprehensively until now presenting new research on how the Arensbergs acquired pre-Columbian art and featuring never before seen images Hollywood Arensberg demonstrates the value of seeing the Arensbergs collection as part of a single vision framed by a unique domestic space at the heart of Hollywood's burgeoning artistic scene this publication has been generously supported by furthermore a program of the J. M. Kaplan Fund
