the tensions between calvinism and arminianism have perpetuated christian thought for some 500 years the concerns from both parties are legitimate calvinists are often accused of fatalism along with holding to a troubling view of double predestination arminians are often accused of holding to a human centered view of salvation that robs god of glory while championing human ability could it be that many of the tensions between calvinists and arminians are sourced in an often overlooked issue monergism and synergism could the same be said regarding protestantism and roman catholicism concerning justification in this volume daniel kirkpatrick explores the specific roles of god and humans in various aspects of salvation to determine whether salvation is a work between god and a person synergism or a work of god alone monergism building upon the framework of aquinas the reformers and arminians this book examines the issue of who does the work of salvation in light of cause and effect with hopes of providing new insights on historic doctrines an in depth breakdown of the theological and exegetical basis for salvation amongst the unevangelized in reformed theology what is the fate of those who never hear the gospel what becomes of the unevangelized does reformed theology allow for belief that some even many who never hear the gospel are saved and if so what might that look like perhaps more importantly does scripture provide any hope for their salvation a standard answer from the reformed tradition is that those who never hear the gospel are simply not elect if they were god in his sovereignty would have sent the gospel to them yet the westminster confession affirms the reality of other elect those incapable of being outwardly called by the ministry of the word wcf 10 3 many luminaries of the reformed tradition w g t shedd a a hodge john gerstner douglas f kelly philip rollinson richard j mouw r c sproul and others have left open the possibility this refers to the unevangelized granting this possibility how can this be squared with the rest of reformed theology and what exegetical ground is there for such a view this book seeks to establish the theological and exegetical framework necessary to support such a view it argues both that reformed theology has the tools to account for such a possibility and that scripture provides ample evidence to not just establish the possibility but the reality of salvation amongst the unevangelized the book is based on the biblical account of the salvation of an ethiopian eunuch acts 8 2640 the key statements are in acts 8 3435 so the eunuch answered philip and said i ask you of whom does the prophet say this of himself or of some other man then philip opened his mouth and beginning at this scripture preached jesus to him god has recently given us the opportunity to discuss some theological issues with other christians who believe differently than we do on a number of points most notably the doctrines of grace in such a circumstance given the overwhelming supply of scriptural evidence that comes to bear on the topic it seemed to me that the best approach would be a simple categorized scripture list the fact that the entire book would be scriptures with the exception of a few brief explanatory notes would underscore the truth that this is god s own word and teaching and the fact that it would be categorized would facilitate the ready comparison of scripture with scripture so as to lead one to a full orb ed understanding of the biblical teaching although i found a few good scripture lists of that nature available online none of them was laid out in quite the progression that we were looking for and so we developed our own master s thesis from the year 2012 in the subject theology systematic theology grade b course theology systematic theology ethics language english abstract this thesis conducts a biblical and theological analysis of the prosperity theology s pt impact amongst the poor the main problem is to seek ways of effectively responding to the biblical theological and ideological problems raised by pt in namibia without overlooking the social issues of poverty and suffering which this theology claims to be solving the subject under discussion is found in various denominations but especially amongst neo pentecostal churches and it is not a standardised theology through interacting with the various views of the proponents and opponents this research proposes that although pt may have certain positive aspects it is a theology established upon faulty hermeneutics and is not helpful in providing biblically and theologically sound solutions to the problem of poverty the research aims to show that christians have a biblical mandate to care for the poor and to work towards assisting the poor to help themselves however we do not foresee a time in the here and now when poverty will be totally abolished living with this painful reality we have the duty of continuously pointing people to the future hope in christ on the other hand our looking to the future hope does not exempt us from doing our best in helping people in the here and now as god enables us the research shows that the gospel is the hope for humanity and we should do away with methods and practices that do not have their roots in scripture moreover the church has a duty to warn against any theology that is conducted in an irresponsible manner and is given to reductionist arguments when it comes to providing solutions to human problems therefore the research seeks to suggest biblical theological and practical ways of responding to the issue of poverty and ministry to the poor are there two peoples of god or one explores one of the most significant theological debates in christian history this comprehensive study examines the biblical foundation for understanding the unity of god s people tracing the continuity and expansion of his covenant community from the old testament to the new testament with a robust examination of scripture the book argues that there is indeed one people of god differentiated by roles in redemptive history the jews hold a place of preeminence as the firstborn a title shared by jesus christ while the new testament church represents the continuation and fulfillment of god s promises to israel drawing on the writings of the apostle paul the book explains how gentiles once alienated from the commonwealth of israel are now grafted into the same tree sharing in the rich blessings of the covenant
