depending on the news you read new tools like ai will either save or destroy us but our response to emerging technology s unprecedented threats actually follows a pattern as old as civilisation from ancient athens to covid 19 social media to spam alicia wanless shows how humans have always consumed information whether accurate or not first a new technology changes how information is shared broadening its availability and accelerating how fast it travels then as more people engage with this new content fresh ideas arise often challenging prevailing beliefs some use the new tools to promote their views win power or simply profit adding to the mounting information pollution competition and conflict follow we scramble in vain to control information flows and use of the new technology with democracies worldwide lurching from crisis to crisis knee jerk reactions to information conflict won t suffice what s needed is an understanding of our nature as information animals in a millennia long relationship with technology and of how a content saturated world impacts the political battle for hearts and minds this new book represents a complete rewriting of romila thapar s hugely successful history of india volume one thirty four years after it was first published incorporating the vast changes in knowledge developed during her lifetime thapar tells the extraordinary story of this great civilisation a civilisation always based on diverse often warring sources and that left the astounding buildings and beliefs that still fill india this book is the authoritative history told with style and meticulous attention to detail by the world s leading authority in 1850 china was the sick man of asia now it is set to become the most powerful nation on earth for 150 years china has endured as victim of oppression war and famine this title shows how turbulent that journey has been one of the most extraordinary history bestsellers on the penguin list john roberts s book has now been updated by odd arne westad to make sure it keeps its amazing appeal to a new generation of readers a stupendous achievement the unrivalled world history for our day it extends over all ages and all continents it covers the forgotten experiences of ordinary people as well as chronicling the acts of those in power it is unbelievably accurate in its facts and almost incontestable in its judgements a j p taylor observer roy investigates the various factors that influenced the formation and mobilization of military forces in the region from 300 bc to the modern day new zealand was the last country in the world to be discovered and settled by humankind it was also the first to introduce full democracy between those events and in the century that followed the franchise the movements and the conflicts of human history have been played out more intensively and more rapidly in new zealand than anywhere else on earth the penguin history of new zealand a new book for a new century tells that story in all its colour and drama the narrative that emerges is an inclusive one about men and women maori and pakeha it shows that british motives in colonising new zealand were essentially humane and that maori far from being passive victims of a fatal impact coped heroically with colonisation and survived by selectively accepting and adapting what western technology and culture had to offer this book a triumphant fruit of careful research wide reading and judicious assessment was an unprecedented best seller from the time of its first publication in 2003 in between war and the state van nguyen marshall examines an array of voluntary activities including mutual help professional charitable community development student women s and rights organizations active in south vietnam from 1954 to 1975 by bringing focus to the public lives of south vietnamese people between war and the state challenges persistent stereotypes of south vietnam as a place without society or agency such robust associational life underscores how an active civil society survived despite difficulties imposed by the war government restrictions economic hardship and external political forces these competing political forces which included the united states western aid agencies and vietnamese communist agents created a highly competitive arena wherein the south vietnamese state did not have a monopoly on persuasive or coercive power to maintain its influence the state sometimes needed to accommodate groups and limit its use of violence civil society participants in south vietnam leveraged their social connections made alliances appealed to the domestic and international public and used street protests to voice their concerns secure their interests and carry out their activities
