in the 21st century with china s rise and the united states u s relative decline the u s china relationship together with strategic environment in northeast asia is changing china is expanding its influence from northeast asia to southeast asia and central asia as a result china is forming a new type of check and balance and cooperation and conflict with the u s in southeast asia and russia in central asia such changes in china s foreign relations policy and strategy as well as the strategic environment in northeast asia will have a higher possibility of influencing the unification on the korean peninsula therefore it is necessary to precisely analyze the international situation surrounding the korean peninsula and to examine china s foreign relations with countries in northeast asia central asia and southeast asia this research provides the analysis of china s external relations policy in these three regions to understand the international circumstances surrounding the korean peninsula the research aims to form the basis for the future unification diplomatic strategy the first part of this book explains china s major diplomatic relationships towards four east asian countries japan russia north korea and taiwan this chapter particularly provides a keen analysis of developments of each relationship and discusses how china initiates its diplomatic strategy and embodies its four major diplomatic relationships next part analyzes china s aggressive foreign policy in central asia this part suggests that china s active policies towards central asian countries during the past decade is due to the increased importance of the region to china for the following aspects national security geopolitical location energy and market considering the aforementioned factors china s enhanced influence in the region and intensified relations with the neighboring countries are mainly examined the last part explores southeast asia s foreign policy in the context of the rise of the g2 rivalry focusing on cambodia vietnam and myanmar this part emphasizes the importance of southeast asia for the u s and china from a geopolitical perspective then it goes on how each nation formed and developed its relationship with the u s and china what each country s national interest is how they influence their foreign policies toward the two big giants and how each country shape their policies in response to the conflictual and suspicious relationship between washington and beijing in sum this study provides an in depth analysis of china s overall diplomatic strategy it is particularly significant for the policy makers in south korea and other countries to understand china s external relations in the transitional situation on the east asian regional level as well as on the global level keywords changes in east asia s strategic environment strategy of unification diplomacy china and southeast asia relations china and central asia relations introduction part 1 northeast asia and china s external relations I xi jinping administration s policy towards japan II china russia relations III north korea china relations at a transition IV china taiwan relations part 2 central asia and china s external relations V china s policy towards central asia under the xi jinping leadership VI central asian states responses to china s expansion of power part 3 southeast asia and china s external relations VII cambodia s relations with china and the u s norms interests and a balancing act VIII conflict management and peace making in myanmar effort and its effects IX myanmar s reforms and opening the new chapter with asean X learning from the past vietnamese foreign policy in a changing world by looking back to understand the contemporary political and economic landscape of southeast asia these essays shed light on how modern southeast asia has evolved special focus centres on us engagement with the region by both governmental and non governmental organisations this work examines the development of the republic of vietnam armed forces as a national institution explores the historical origins of the political warfare system and assesses that system s nurturing of military morale popular support and ways to weaken enemy resolve north vietnam in the 1940s and south vietnam in the 1960s embraced the system of political control over the military that was developed in soviet russia after the bolshevik revolution and in republican china in the 1920s where it influenced both the nationalist and communist movements the book discusses the overall effectiveness of political warfare activities in the republic of vietnam s army the advice and support offered by the u s military to the south vietnamese political warfare establishment and the consequences of the war s end for the members of the republic of vietnam armed forces who served in the political warfare system the only apparent consensus about the nixon presidency is that his accomplishments in the foreign policy area far outshadowed those in the domestic arena the advances for which he was responsible in particular the opening to china brought the most significant improvement in foreign relations among the great powers in decades the nixon diplomacy worked while many of his domestic programs failed this was true the editors of this hofstra sponsored volume maintain because there was more of a sense of realism and caution in his dealings with foreign governments and a willingness to compromise and accommodate their interests a tolerance he often lacked in the domestic area this volume outlines the main components of the nixon foreign policy beginning with the significant effort to bring china into the world community the manner in which the vietnam war was ended is examined as are the evolution of american policy in the middle east and the efforts at detente with essays and observations from scholars and participants in the making of that policy this volume is significant reading for all students of american foreign policy and the presidency
