meet me here is a compilation of poetry and prose written and collected by the author through the months leading up to and during the lockdown brought by the pandemic it is a 4 part series each part having a specific theme that aims to be relatable and resound the inner workings sighs songs and delight of the heart join the author as you read through and unpack the different emotions each work tries to elicit and feel free to add on to it as you journey to meet each other in between the pages the incredible story of the meinels has never been told nor have their accomplishments and contributions ever been adequately recounted in one publication this book is an effort to redress that oversight using interviews from those who knew them best their own prodigious body of work including an unpublished autobiography and documentation in presidential libraries as well as universities and the national archives faded emotions as the name suggests is a book that corresponds to the submerged and drifted emotions one hides from expressing the feelings that were suppressed in an effort to forget are finally penned down in this space this anthology consists of poetries narrations micro tales and short stories based on the topic being true to the name of the book it is not only a compilation of writings from various authors but also a flow of thoughts and emotions that were meant to be claimed and expressed to the readers faded emotions holds the work of literature by writers across the world who have put in their pieces to form this international anthology we can see the true efforts behind every writing and most importantly the feelings they hold through this anthology we hope to bring to our readers the tales and poetry that they can relate to and the fact that expressing one's inner self is a pure feeling it may be love betrayal affection or realization each emotion holds value that we wish to bring through this is not just an anthology of compiled genre it is truly a compilation of faded emotions brought back to life by the beauty of writing essays showcasing the novel Ali and Nino as particularly topical for today's readers both in and out of the classroom and providing a number of diverse approaches to it this book examines coercive diplomacy and presents a theory of emotional choice to analyse how affect enters into decision making this book offers a broader theory of nuclear deterrence and examines the way nuclear and conventional deterrence interact with non military factors in a series of historical case studies the existing body of literature largely leans toward the analytical primacy of nuclear deterrence and it is often implicitly assumed that nuclear weapons are so important that when they are present other factors need not be studied this book addresses this omission it develops a research framework that incorporates the military aspects of deterrence both nuclear and conventional together with various perceptual factors international circumstances domestic politics and norms this framework is then used to re-examine five historical crises that brought two nuclear countries to the brink of war the hostile asymmetric nuclear relations between the united states and china in the early 1960s between the soviet union and china in the late 1960s between israel and iraq in 1977 1981 between the united states and north korea in 1992 1994 and finally between the united states and the soviet union during the 1962 cuban missile crisis the main empirical findings challenge the common expectation that the threat of nuclear retaliation represents the ultimate deterrent in fact it can be said with a high degree of confidence that it was rather the threat of conventional retaliation that acted as a major stabilizer this book will be of much interest to students of nuclear proliferation cold war studies deterrence theory security studies and in general
