recognizing how the lines between digital and traditional forms of entrepreneurship are blurring this forward thinking book combines digital technology and entrepreneurship perspectives to advance knowledge on this paradigm shifting typology of entrepreneurship

this book presents readers with the opportunity to fundamentally re evaluate the processes of innovation and entrepreneurship and to rethink how they might best be stimulated and fostered within our organizations and communities the fundamental thesis of the book is that the entrepreneurial process is not a linear progression from novel idea to successful innovation but is an iterative series of experiments where progress depends on the persistence and resilience of the individuals involved and their ability and to learn from failure as well as success from this premise the authors argue that the ideal environment for new venture creation is a form of experimental laboratory a community of innovators where ideas are generated shared and refined experiments are encouraged and which in itself serves as a test environment for those ideas and experiments this environment is quite different from the traditional incubator which may impose the disciplines of the established firm too early in the development of the new venture featuring case examples of start ups across a wide spectrum of industries from wikipedia to ryanair the authors explore the qualities of successful innovation including a high tolerance of risk and unpredictability and commitment to building knowledge enterprises that value intangible assets this volume is a clarion call to those in academia enterprise and government who seek to work together to promote innovation and entrepreneurship with a stark message for academic institutions engage or be left behind entrepreneurs who start out with no network no money no market and scarce resources find a big contrast between what they read in books and the success stories from the valley and their reality specially first timers most entrepreneurial books focus on the business canvas model simplifying the process of building a start up many entrepreneurs who have no previous business experience embrace quick and lean methods without the foundations needed to build solid value proposals this book stands out because it deals with entrepreneurship in environments far removed from large cities with fewer infrastructures connections and resources but which also need companies that provide services to citizens and society this book focuses on the basics treating each part of the business canvas as a discipline itself that must be mastered the book illustrates key lessons learned and offers guidance on essential topics for new venture success in mainstream markets it expands critical lessons learned and points of guidance across several key topics for new venture creation noteworthy is the role of context financial understanding building business development skills and start up communications entrepreneurship for rural start ups will be of interest to students academics and researchers in the field of entrepreneurship and will be of use to individuals looking to start a local business to take advantage of the rural environment and the possibilities it offers
