the packers the only fan owned team in any of north america's major pro sports leagues and green bay population 104 057 is the smallest city with a big time franchise they're unlikely candidates to be pro football's preeminent team yet nobody in the nfl has won more championships in honor of the team's 100th anniversary beech paints compelling pictures of a franchise a town and a fan base from the days of the french fur traders who settled on the shores of la baie in the seventeenth century to the team's pursuit of its fourteenth nfl championship adapted from jacket the two myths gene ronzani and lisle blackbourn each resigned from being the head coach of the green bay packers the truth both were fired and the packer organization to this day continues to deny that both were dismissed one because of his ethnic background and the other because he tried to do the job he was hired to do this fourth volume in the series on the history of the green bay packers reveals the truth behind the headlines of the 1950s after having fought for three decades for survival in a league consisting of big city teams the packers finally achieved financial solvency and even growth only to have this incredible feat soiled by underhanded dealings by the corporation's executive committee not all was rotten in bay city the packers did make some remarkable strides in the 50s the most memorable being the construction of a new stadium which the corporation partially financed with the taxpayers of the city of green bay the packers got their new stadium despite some wheeling and dealing by the corporation's own president that might have cost green bay its franchise in the nfl once again the packers survived the turmoil within the nfl and in their own back yard they appealed to the fans of wisconsin and the upper peninsula of michigan for more money through a stock sale then they appealed to the voters and taxpayers of green bay for a new stadium in both cases they received overwhelming support on the field the packers went through a trio of coaches from 1950 through 1958 gene ronzani had the unenviable task of rebuilding a team that had been decimated by the pro football war between the nfl and the aac he brought in some stars but before he could really build a solid foundation he was fired mostly for being italian for being from the upper peninsula of michigan and for being a former player and coach for the hated chicago bears wisconsin native son lisle blackbourn was hired away from his job as head coach at marquette university to replace ronzani he built on what ronzani had begun but he wasn't allowed to run the team as he saw fit to do finally the second guessers got him fired ray scooter mclean an assistant under both ronzani and blackbourn was given the top post in 1958 a wonderful human being poor scooter was a disaster as a head coach in the nfl on the field legends like don hutson ray nitschke and brett favre made the green bay packers into a professional football powerhouse but the history of the nfl's only small town franchise is as much a story of business creativity as gridiron supremacy behind every packer who became a legend on the field there was an andrew turnbull dominic olejniczak or bob harlan leaders whose dedication and creativity in preserving the franchise were unwavering green bay packers trials triumphs and traditions tells the improbable story of professional football's most iconic team and along the way gives a unique window into the rise of modern professional sports as the nfl has evolved into a financial juggernaut the green bay packers with more than 112 158 stockholders stand alone as the only professional sports franchise owned by fans thus providing the only public record of how a sports team is run featuring more than 300 photographs some never before seen green bay packers illustrates how the most creative team in sports is also one of the most successful with names like lambeau canadeo lombardi hornung holmgren and white leading the way to a league best thirteen nfl titles and twenty one hall of fame inductees this comprehensive up to date history of the packers includes the 2011 season early executives of the packers anti semitic how did gerald clifford create the most unique franchise in all of professional sports then there was the team the players how did the coach and general manager a small town team in the frigid north entice so many stars to play professional football for him for less money than they could get in bigger cities jug earpe charley mathys cub buck vern lewellen red dunn lavvie dilweg johnny blood cal hubbard mike michalske and more hall of famers all the green bay packers the team and franchise too tough to die
